

A detailed still life painting of a traditional Russian tea set. In the center background stands a large, ornate silver samovar with intricate engravings and a tiered lid. To its left is a white ceramic teapot with a pink rose and green leaves. In the foreground, a white teacup with a pink stripe sits on a matching saucer. To the right is a white ceramic pitcher with a pink rose, and a glass bowl filled with tea. A wicker basket on the right contains several golden-brown braided breads. In the foreground, there are lemons, one whole and one sliced. The scene is set on a white tablecloth against a background of a window with a view of a yellow building and light-colored curtains. The text "САМОВАР ИВАН ИВАНЫЧ" is overlaid in red in the center.

САМОВАР
ИВАН ИВАНЫЧ

